

“No Weapons” Window Clings

A new law allows licensed Oklahomans to carry unconcealed handguns. The Oklahoma Self-Defense Act also allows banks and other entities to ban weapons on their premises.

The key to effectively enforcing a weapons ban at your bank is letting your customers and others know of your decision to prohibit weapons.

The OBA has developed these 5” x 7” window clings for banks to conspicuously display at all entrances to the bank. They adhere to windows with static and are designed to be placed on the inside of the window. The clings are printed in black and red, and are offered in white and transparent. Banks with tinted windows should order the white clings for maximum visibility.
